

DOWNGRADING AT 12-YEAR INTERVALS

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the author to the editor, dated 1954. The letter discusses the author's work on the history of the Soviet Union and the role of the Communist Party. The author mentions that he has been working on this project for several years and that he has received a lot of feedback from his colleagues. He also mentions that he has been invited to give a lecture on the subject at the University of Moscow.

2. A major development outside the US-UK talks was the conclusion of the UN-Asian continental conference on September 22, at which it was agreed that something would be done to improve the situation in the Far East and the Middle East (the conference was not made public).

The following information was obtained from the records of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, New York City, dated 10/10/50, and is being furnished to you for your information:

requirement. We shall, therefore, examine Navy's communications and navigational needs very carefully when the OSDordered review is undertaken. In this connection we have asked CINCUSNAVEUR to submit any additional views he may have on the problem of tactical communications in the Indian Ocean and we have also asked the CINCSTRIKE Navy liaison officer in London to take up with CINCSTRIKE the question of its own communications needs in the area.
